

Lynn Bozeman

Lynn Bozeman is a shareholder with Richard, Harris, Ingram and Bozeman, PC. Richard, Harris, Ingram and Bozeman, PC is a local firm organized in 1948 emphasizing serving small entities (individuals, small business, not-for-profits, governments, school boards, fiduciaries, and others) with a full range of services including bookkeeping, payroll, accounting, tax preparation of all kinds, audit, and consulting services. Lynn has been employed with the firm for over 34 years. She works heavily in audit area, particularly federal programs compliance for governments and not-for-profits and insurance providers, but also significant involvement in tax practice (special focus in timber and extractive industries), financial planning, and management duties, including outreach, personnel, recruiting, and quality control.

Lynn is a graduate of Troy University. She is a CPA and holds certifications from the AICPA in Personal Financial Planning, Governmental Auditing and Accounting and Advanced Single Audit Certificate.

Lynn is an active member of her profession and community. She currently serves on the Alabama Society of CPAs (ASCPA) Board of Directors and is the 2017-2018 ASCPA Chair-elect. Lynn is the Past President of Montgomery Chapter. Additionally, she has served as chair and/or member of various ASCPA committees, including governmental audit and accounting, audit standards and accounting principles. Lynn is also the co-founder Southern Ladies Up to Something in the GUMP, community service/social organization.